THE HOUSE OUR STORY

MAISON ROSE

WHAT'S ON FIND US

A HOUSE FOR GOOD HOURS · SINCE 1987

Come for the evening.

Maison Rose is a grand old dining house with four rooms, two bars and a courtyard in the middle of the city. Stay for dinner. Stay a little longer.

01 / MAISON ROSE

One address. Several ways to spend it.

There are nights for a proper dinner, afternoons for oysters at the bar, and evenings when all you want is a glass of something cold and a corner table.

Maison Rose brings them under one roof: a little restaurant, a little wine house, a little late-night refuge. The rooms are different. The feeling isn't.

02 / THE ROOMS

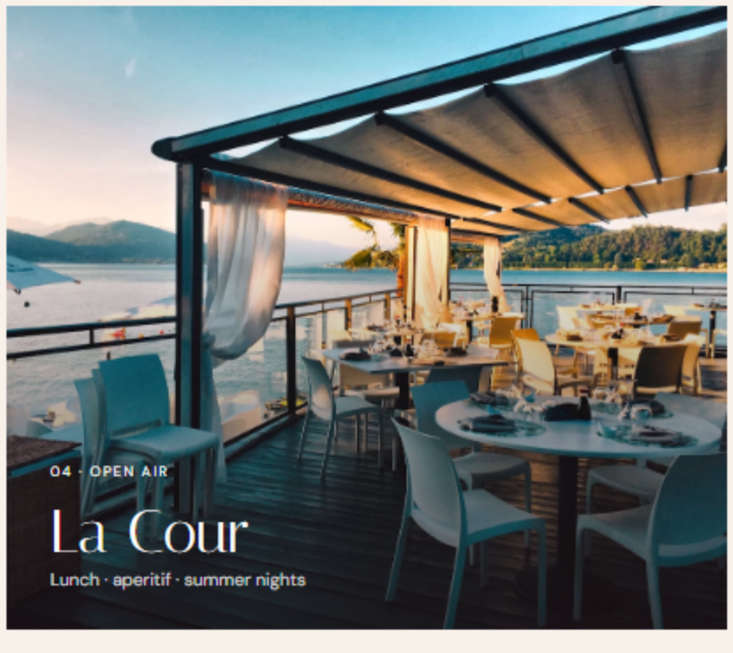

Where do you want to sit?

Four rooms, two bars and a courtyard. Pick the mood first; we'll take care of the rest.

03 / LE CELLIER

Good wine doesn't need an occasion.

Our cellar moves between old-world bottles, small producers and a few things we've discovered because a sommelier wouldn't stop talking about them.

Chablis · Domaine Moreau	€14
Pinot Noir · Maison Lenoir	€16
Crémant de Loire	€12

04 / THE HOUSE

A little history in the walls.

The building began life as a textile merchant's townhouse in 1887. In the eighties, the ground floor became the neighbourhood's favourite late-night restaurant. We kept the worn stone, the tall windows and the old tiled floor.

The menu changed. The habit of staying too long didn't.

06 / AROUND THE HOUSE

A few good corners.

Come early for the light. Come late for the candles. Either way, bring an appetite.

"We only came in for a drink. Dinner happened somewhere between the second glass and midnight."
